Broadcast/Pro Video Digital Effects Processors Report

Description: The Broadcast/Pro Video Digital Effects Processors product category has been undergoing a period of resurgence ever since 2003. This upward curve indicates continued progress with digital migration across all six vertical markets and a firm placement for nonlinear digital effects in the post-production and production process. Both cablers and broadcasters are undergoing a metamorphosis brought on by necessity and opportunity. Broadcasters have resisted some of the biggest digital changes until recently. Upgrades have been mandated and are a factor of survival.

This is just part of the future forecast for the broadcast / pro video Digital Effects Processors market size data and market share report. The full Broadcast/Pro Video Digital Effects Processors Report report provides quantitative market size data, based on extensive annual primary research surveys (since 1984) of broadcast and pro video facilities in each of the following end-user vertical markets: broadcast television stations, cable television stations, video & film post production facilities, video production, film production and multimedia facilities, corporate video and institutional video facilities (government video, educational video, medical video).
