Summary
ICD Research's "The India Defense Industry - Competitive Landscape and Strategic Insights to 2017: Market Profile" is an essential source of information covering the top companies of the defense industry in India.

The Indian defense industrial base has been aiming to procure 70% of its defense requirements from domestic companies since 2000, but, as of 2009, the country only procured 30% of its defense equipment domestically. The unremarkable performance of domestic enterprises has compelled the government to encourage joint ventures between domestic corporations and foreign manufacturers.
