Global Home Security System Market 2015-2019

Description:
An overview of the home security system market
The rising incidents of security concerns has led to increased safety measures by residential dwellings. As a result, the global home security system market is projected to grow at a remarkable rate of above 13% during the forecast period. Advancement in technology and emergence of smart homes has led to the rise of integrated home security systems, which can be connected to smartphones and enable the monitoring of residences from remote locations.

With improvement in network infrastructure, broadband and internet penetration has increased, and consumers are increasingly opting for wireless and technologically advanced products to ensure more security for their families. Therefore, vendors are expanding their distribution channels and R&D expenditure to improve their product offerings and leverage on the trend of home automation. As the trend towards home automation and smart homes grows, the market will gain traction.
