Healthcare Policy | Politiques de Sante

Description:
‘Healthcare Policy / Politiques de Santé’ is a peer reviewed journal for the publicizing of research relating to health policy development and decision making in spheres ranging from governance, organization and service delivery to funding and resource allocation.

The peer review process includes both academic and decision-maker reviewers and considers both the scientific quality of the work and its contribution to knowledge that can inform health policy, planning and management.

The journal is open to researchers from a broad range of disciplines including health sciences, social sciences, humanities, ethics, law and management sciences. Authors come from disciplines including social sciences, humanities, ethics, law, management sciences, and knowledge translation.

Themes addressed in the journal include those identified in the national consultation on health services and policy issues in Canada, Listening for Directions II:

- Workforce planning, training, and regulation
- Management of the healthcare workplace
- Timely access to quality care for all
- Managing for quality and safety
- Understanding and responding to public expectations
- Sustainable funding and ethical resource allocation
- Governance and accountability
- Managing and adapting to change
- Linking care across place, time, and settings
- Linking public health to health services

‘Healthcare Policy / Politiques de Santé’ would be of benefit to individuals and academic associations with important decision-making responsibilities affecting the access and utilization of healthcare resources such as health system managers, practitioners, policy makers, educators and academics. The journal is indexed in the following: PubMed/Medline, CINAHL, CSA (Cambridge), Ulrich’s, Embase, IndexCopernicus, Scopus and is a partner of HINARI.
