Summary: Korea Development Bank Dec 01

Description:
Abstract
The ratings on the Korea Development Bank (KDB) rest on its policy role for the Korean government; namely as the primary governmental financial institution that extends medium-to-long term financial facilities in support of the Korean government’s industrial policy objectives. The ratings also incorporate the strong support the Korean government provides to its 100%-owned bank. Taking into account the bank’s robust policy role, its size in the economy, the strong government support, and the lack of alternative suppliers of long-term credit, Standard & Poor’s equalizes its ratings on KDB with those on the sovereign. Under the KDB Act, the Korean government is required to maintain the bank’s solvency. Standard & Poor’s regards this statutory obligation as a sign of the government’s...

Standard and Poors RatingsXpress Credit Research provides in-depth coverage of international corporates, financial institutions, insurance companies, utilities, sovereigns and structured finance programs. RatingsXpress Credit Research lets users determine the credit rating of holdings and identify key factors underlying an issuer’s creditworthiness, distinguishes the different risk exposures for new and existing deals, and provides an understanding of how their analysts interpret key regulatory, political and environmental events and their economic impact.

This product consists of a Summary Analysis: Bi-annual (at least). An abbreviated analysis containing Standard & Poor’s issuer credit ratings as of the time the article was published. The analysis includes a rating rationale - the basis on which the rating was assigned - and an outlook section if the issuer is not on CreditWatch. Financial statistics are not included.
