Summary: Hawk Corp. Feb 01

Description: Abstract
The ratings reflect Hawk Corp.'s established niche positions in cyclical industrial markets, combined with a weak financial profile. Hawk manufactures friction products, which account for about 61% of sales and include brake pads, transmission disks, and clutch buttons. Other products include powdered metal components and die-cast aluminum rotors. Cyclical of end markets is a risk, but is offset somewhat by more stable aftermarket demand that generates about half the sales for Hawk's friction products. Recently, the friction segment has softened due to weakness in the agriculture, mining, forestry, and office equipment markets. However, some stability is gained from moderate end-market diversity, with products sold in aerospace, construction and agricultural equipment, heavy truck, and industrial machinery markets. A focus on improving...

Standard and Poors RatingsXpress Credit Research provides in-depth coverage of international corporates, financial institutions, insurance companies, utilities, sovereigns and structured finance programs. RatingsXpress Credit Research lets users determine the credit rating of holdings and identify key factors underlying an issuer’s creditworthiness, distinguishes the different risk exposures for new and existing deals, and provides an understanding of how their analysts interpret key regulatory, political and environmental events and their economic impact.

This product consists of a Summary Analysis: Bi-annual (at least). An abbreviated analysis containing Standard & Poor’s issuer credit ratings as of the time the article was published. The analysis includes a rating rationale - the basis on which the rating was assigned - and an outlook section if the issuer is not on CreditWatch. Financial statistics are not included.
