Global Reinsurance Market 2015-2019

Description:

About Reinsurance

Reinsurance is “insurance for insurers.” It is a major risk-mitigation tool for insurers. In the wake of increasing incidence of catastrophic events and decreasing risk tolerance, reinsurance has become an indispensable part of the Insurance industry. By absorbing the losses of insurers, reinsurers help in the stabilization of the Insurance industry. They also help insurance players underwrite peak risks that would otherwise have not been possible, considering the capital limits of insurers. Reinsurers, by virtue of their global operations and exposure to a variety of risks, are a powerhouse of expertise in risk management and pricing. This expertise is a major contribution of reinsurers to insurers.

The analysts forecast the Global Reinsurance market to grow at a CAGR of 7.1 percent over the period 2014-2019.
