Protein Expression Market by Products, Application, Expression Systems & by End User - Global Forecast to 2018

Description:

"Protein Expression Market by Products (Expression Vector, Service, Reagent), Application (Industrial, Therapeutic), Expression Systems (Mammalian, Prokaryotic, Baculovirus, Yeast) & by End User (Pharmaceutical, Biotechnology, CRO) - Global Forecast to 2018"

Protein expression denotes the presence and the abundance of one or more proteins in a cell or tissue. It forms an integral part of proteomic research as many commercially important proteins are produced downstream of protein expression. The protein expression market is expected to be driven by a number of factors.

In the pharmaceutical sector, decline in the productivity of R&D and the sales drop expected by the upcoming patent cliff has resulted in intense research activities. Furthermore, the rise of the biologics market will increase research related to it, while the growth of the proteomics market will boost the protein expression market to a large extent.

The intensity of research has increased in the pharmaceutical sector to compensate the lack of noteworthy results from R&D. Even though the budgets from R&D have increased over the years, the number of innovative technologies has not grown in tandem. In addition, biologics market is on the rise which will provide impetus to the research activities related to it. The growth of the proteomics industry will fuel the demand for pure proteins that are needed for research and for use in biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies. This demand will boost the protein expression market on a large scale.

The report segments the protein expression market by expression systems, products, applications, and end users. Insect cell, mammalian cell, prokaryotic, yeast, and others are the expression system segments of the protein expression market included in this report. The product segment includes competent host cells, expression vectors, instruments, reagents, and services.

The applications segment of the protein expression market comprised of industrial proteins, research applications, and therapeutic proteins. The end-user segment includes academic research, contract research organizations, pharmaceutical and biotechnological companies, and others. The report maps the expression system, product, application, and end user profiles in each of the 19 regional and geographic segments. It provides a granular understanding of the current market size and provides a market forecast to 2018.

A combination of bottom-up and top-down approach was used to calculate the market size and growth rates of the protein expression market and its sub-segments.
