Islamic Banking Systems & Suppliers Guide

Description: This publication compares over 30 of the leading Islamic banking system suppliers. It evaluates the strengths, weaknesses and functionality, looks at the customer experiences and includes verified user lists to form an unbiased picture of the merits of each supplier and its Islamic banking systems.

- Who is operating in the Islamic finance market?
- What specifically makes a system Shari'ah compliant?
- Where are the opportunities for success?

The Islamic Banking Systems and Suppliers Guide answers all of these key questions and provides an unrivalled resource covering this specialist market. It will assist banks with the selection of the best system to support their operations and is an ideal reference and source of primary information on Islamic banking systems for suppliers and consultants operating or looking to operate in this expanding sector.

By drilling down into the complexities and detail of what makes Shari'ah compliant systems, this guide explores each system and the supplier's ability to innovate, to control and manage the operation and to provide excellent customer service.

In totally independent editorial, the Islamic Banking Systems & Suppliers Guide reviews the strengths and weaknesses of specialist suppliers and their systems, analysing the background, functionality, future direction and user base for each.

The guide will help you to:

- Explore the challenges of Islamic banking technology
- Review the various Islamic finance authorities involved
- Compare conventional banking vs. Islamic finance
- Draw experience from four in-depth case studies of Islamic system implementations
- Gain comprehensive knowledge of over 30 specialist Islamic finance technology vendors and over 40 of their systems.
