Online Retail Market in the US 2015-2019

Description:
Online retailing is the process of buying and selling products and services, such as COD, card on delivery, or trial services, through the internet. In online retailing, buyers can purchase the products of their choice without any time and location constraints. This practice is gaining momentum as it is beneficial for both buyers and sellers. Vendors that sell their products online either maintain their own websites or operate through other web portals.

The analysts forecast the Online Retail market in the US on the basis of revenue to grow at a CAGR of 9.45 percent over the period 2014-2019. Based on the retailing of products online, the market has been segmented in the following categories: Consumer Electronics and Electricals; Apparel, Footwear, and Accessories; Music, Software, Books, and Stationary; Food and Grocery; Home Care Products; Home Furniture and Furnishing; and Others.
