Global Paper and Paperboard Container and Packaging Market 2015-2019

Description: About Paper and Paperboard Container and Packaging

Paper and paperboard packaging is an emerging trend in the Packaging industry. It is gaining importance in many regions as it is environment friendly and cost-effective. Paperboard is thicker with a high weight per unit area and is made in multiple layers. It is mostly used to make containers such as boxes, cartons, and trays for packaging and shipping and is seldom used for direct food contact. The various types of paperboard are white board, solid board, chip board, and fiber board. The vendors in the Global Paper and Paperboard Container and Packaging market are continuously offering new packaging patterns that can prevent the contamination of products such as food or beverages. In addition to providing convenience to customers, packaging plays a major role in enticing customers to purchase the product.

The analysts forecast the Global Paper and Paperboard Container and Packaging market to grow at a CAGR of 6.50 percent over the period 2014-2019.
