Japan-China Business Monthly

Description: The author offers Japan-China Business Monthly Report for companies in Japan and China, which combines news reporting with informative regular insights that helps the investors in both the countries to assess the investment opportunities.

Japan and China hold important places in world economics and there has been a fervent renewed interest in trade and industry between them. According to analysis on Japan-China trade in the first half of 2014, based on import data from “Trade Statistics of Japan” by the Ministry of Finance and the “China Customs Statistics Yearbook”, total trade increased by 4.4% to US$168.4 billion, marking an increase from the double-digit decrease which was seen in the same period of the previous year. Exports to China increased by 2.5% to US$78 billion and imports also rose by 6.1% to US$90.4 billion.

The objective of this monthly is to offer each month a database of useful information that plays a crucial role in the ongoing China-Japan trade and investments. The monthly is specifically designed to provide investors with the present scenario of investment trends, opportunities, helpful resources, regulatory developments, orientation of Japan and China prospective business locations, latest trade statistics, important forthcoming business events/fairs, and current rankings.

Our research team continuously updates news from established news portals, regional and international primary news sources, business media sites, company websites and stock exchanges. At the end of the month, our research experts identify those news stories that have played a crucial role in Japan-China investments in the month and provide an overall report on the same with supportive informative features, profiles and exhibits.
