Handbags Market in France 2015-2019

About Handbags Market in France

The Handbags market in France is expected to witness moderate year-on-year growth during the forecast period. The increasing per capita consumption or ownership of handbags among consumers is the primary growth driver for volume sales in the market. The desire to own different bags for various occasions is influencing the behavior of customers, especially among women to buy more number of handbags. However, the threat of economic uncertainties and long-product replacement cycles hamper the volume growth of the Handbags market in France.

The analysts forecast the Handbags market in France in terms of revenue and volume grow at CAGRs of 2.61 percent and 2.42 percent, respectively, over the period 2014-2019.
