Global Physical Security Market in BFSI 2015-2019

Description: About Physical Security in BFSI

Physical security involves securing an organization's data, hardware, network, and processes that can be damaged by an external agency, which in turn can damage its brand value. There are a number of hardware devices and software that are being adopted by government organizations and enterprises to ensure the physical security of critical data and infrastructure. Increasing instances of criminal activities in recent years are a major reason for the high adoption of physical security measures.

The analysts forecast the global physical security market in BFSI sector to grow at a CAGR of 8.79% over the period 2014-2019.
