Global Digital Media Adaptor Market 2015-2019

Description:
About Digital Media Adaptors
Digital media adaptors are devices that stream digital multimedia content from the Internet to TVs and home theatres. These devices are also used to stream and share videos, music, and photos with playback systems or over the Internet. Many manufacturers of digital media adaptors have a pre-defined list of channels embedded in the media adaptor. The user can select from the list of available channels. The content available can be accessed free of cost or for a subscription.

The analysts forecast the global digital media adaptor market to grow at a CAGR of 5.47% over the period 2014-2019.
