
Description: It is now the 5th edition of this supplier directory and previous issues have been very successful. Order your personal Supplier Directory - the comprehensively updated printed reference source for the international glass industry. A unique buyer’s guide to glassmaking equipment, materials and services.

The Annual Directory of Suppliers originates from multiple requests from glass manufacturers all over the world to have updated and selected address and company information in printed form. Unlike any existing printed reference sources in the industry, the main advantage to readers is access to the vast spectrum of suppliers originating also from the database. These entries are updated regularly and automatically and readers of the Directory of Suppliers will also benefit from parallel access to the online database.

For successful suppliers to the industry it is a must to be represented within this directory. This industry is the direct channel to also arrange for update of company information within the printed directory or to create a new company entry free of charge.

This industry is the biggest glass portal worldwide, and has exceptional reach and experience in the international glass industry. The expert team with sound knowledge replies to all topics and also issues special studies on the glass industry matching customer requirements.

Comprehensive information within an international company directory, machine and product trade, new projects, job market, technology and engineering section are updated daily and are available 24/7 by all parties involved in glass manufacture, treatment and processing.

With its current campaign ggENOx the glass expert team addresses all glass manufacturers that have to SAVE ENERGY, REDUCE EMISSIONS OR TO OPTIMISE NOX AND CO2. This service provides them with a very efficient system to reduce NOx emissions considerably with very easy means, to calculate their furnace energy balance, specific melting capacities, specific energy consumption as well as energy costs, to execute complete batch calculations with comprehensive determination of glass composition characteristics, just to name a few.

Over 4,6 million page views prove the success and this boosted presence represents an enormous synergy effect for the companies promoted on the portals and provides the decisive advantage in competition.
