Global Glass Packaging Market for Food and Beverages 2015-2019

Description:
About glass packaging for food and beverages products
Glass is used in the packaging of food and beverages products. Glass bottles and jars can be molded into a variety of shapes and dimensions, making them highly applicable for packaging. Its inert nature and its ability to preserve products for a long period of time make glass a popular choice for packaging in the F&B industry.

The report forecasts the global glass packaging market for food and beverages to grow at a CAGR of 2.71% over the period 2014-2019.
