Retailing in Spain - Market Summary and Forecasts; Comprehensive overview of the market, consumer, and competitive context, with retail sales value and forecasts to 2019

Description:
Summary
Retail sales in Spain have been declining since the recession and saw a modest growth of 1.1% in 2014, to reach EUR194.9 billion. This positive growth is set to continue and retail sales are forecast to grow at a CAGR of 3.2%, to reach EUR217.8 billion by 2019. The price of commodities is falling drastically and this downfall may have a positive impact on retail sales. The increasing penetration of the Internet and mobile devices is fueling the growth of sales through the online channel, and the trend is expected to gain further traction over the next five years.

Key Findings
- Uncertain economic conditions had a significant impact on Spain's retail industry
- Shopping tourists continue to boost retail sales in Spain
- Increasing price sensitivity and constant price saving opportunities drive the sales of private label products
- The food and grocery category accounted for 62.6% of total retail sales in 2014
- Online retailing is expected to grow at a CAGR of 14.1% over the forecast period
