Latin America - Cinema Industry

Description: Since deregulation in the 1980s and 1990s, Latin America has been among the fastest growing regional cinema markets. Most countries still have potential for further growth, with the long-term outlook often underpinned by resource-rich economies. This report examines the largest markets, offering forecasts of screen growth, admissions and box office through to 2017, profiling major market players and assembling comprehensive data relating to cinema audiences, top films, digital cinema and other topics.

Additional databases, supplementary to the report, contain further data, including lists of cinemas operated by major circuits and models of cashflows through the exhibition industry of each territory.
