3PL Market in the US 2016-2020

Description:
3PL is a business process through which companies outsource their logistics and distribution functions to a service provider that specializes in handling logistics functions such as transportation and warehousing. Often, 3PL providers go beyond logistics and provide value-added services such as inventory management, cross-docking, door-to-door delivery, and packaging of products. They also provide strategic and operational value to many shippers across the globe. There are currently new and innovative supply chain management techniques to improve overall service quality in the 3PL market.

The report covers the present scenario and the growth prospects of the 3PL market in the US for 2016-2020. To calculate the market size, the report considers net revenue generated by 3PL service providers.

The market is divided into the following segments based on service area:
- Domestic transportation management (DTM)
- International transportation management (ITM)
- Dedicated contract carriage (DCC)
- Verified accredited wholesale distributors (AWD)
