
Description: The Africa Non Lethal Weapons Market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.94% till 2020. Africa, especially West Africa has been on a high growth path for the past few years in terms of economy. West African countries like Ghana, Nigeria has witnessed a stable economic growth. Nigeria has overtaken South Africa to become the biggest African Economy.

The civilian sales of Non Lethal Weapons, which was miniscule a few years back, will start to rise there, as awareness and means to buy products like Pepper Sprays comes with the population. Crime rates have only increased in recent times and this can be proved by the fact that South Africa, Papua New Guinea, Nigeria and Kenya come amongst the most crime infested countries in the world. In April of 2015 South Africa saw violent protests and demonstrations by civilians against the foreign immigrants. This was the second such incident in South Africa on the same issue and the issue has not been laid to rest. This could indicate a further violence outbreak triggering the need of the South African Government to upgrade their riot control equipment.

South Africa is the biggest market for the Non Lethal Weapons and houses major manufacturers of such products. Africor, Megaray, Rheinmettal Denel Munitions are some of the important players in the Africa Non Lethal Weapons Market. The market has been segmented by Product (Ammunition, Direct Contact Weapons, Directed Energy Weapons, Others), End Users (Law Enforcement, Special Forces, Others) and by region (South Africa, Egypt, Nigeria and others).
