Middle East and Africa In Flight Catering Services Market: Analysis of Growth, Trends Progress and Challenges (2015-2020)

Description: The Middle East & Africa In-flight catering services market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.24% till 2020. The Middle East and Africa in-flight catering market will be one of the fastest growing amongst all the regions of the world. The Middle East Aviation market is relatively very well developed as compared to the African market where air connectivity is very poor as a whole and is centered in a few relatively prosperous regions. But due to the low base and rising disposable incomes in the region, the African aviation industry will register strong growth rates. Currently South Africa has one of the most developed aviation industries in the region, but markets like Nigeria, Tanzania, and Ghana are making strong strides in the Industry. Low Cost carriers will lead the growth in the African aviation market, and service providers investing in food services catering to the low cost carriers will make rapid strides.

The Middle Eastern Market will be led by United Arab Emirates. Its major carrier, Emirates, has been making huge investments in the sector. After the removal of the major sanctions against Iran, the country has been upgrading its fleet and purchasing jets. It recently made an order to purchase 114 airbus planes. The passengers of this region are one of the most sensitive to service quality in the world, and airlines will continue to make value additions to the services offered going into the future. Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates and Iran will be the major markets in the region.

Compass Group, Emirates Flight Catering, LSG Sky chefs are some of the important players in the Middle East & Africa In Flight catering services market. The market has been segmented by aircraft class (Economy Class, Business Class, First Class, Others), by flight type (Domestic, International), by Food Type (Meals, Bakery & Confectionary, Beverages and Others), and by geography (Saudi Arabia, UAE, Iran, South Africa, Nigeria & Others).
