Enterprise Information Archiving Market by Content Type (Email, Social Media, and Others), Service, Deployment Type, End User, Industry Application (BFSI, Life Science and Healthcare, and Others), and Region - Global Forecast and Analysis to 2020

Description:
“Retention of data to meet the legal and corporate governance requirements drives the enterprise information archiving market”

The enterprise information archiving market size is expected to grow from USD 4.31 billion in 2015 to USD 7.55 billion in 2020, at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 11.8%. Need for data retention to meet the legal and corporate governance requirements and demand for cost-effective storage solutions for inactive enterprise data are among the factors driving the enterprise information archiving market. Furthermore, the market is also expected to be driven by rise in demand for high performing business processes.

“Cloud-based deployment expected to be the fastest growing subsegment in the enterprise information market”

On-premises enterprise information archiving deployment is expected to contribute the largest market share during the forecast period. However, cloud deployment is expected to grow with the highest rate due to its low cost and scalability. However, data security issues with respect to the archival of data and lack of disaster recovery in hosted systems are restraining the growth of the market.

“North America estimated to contribute the largest market share during the forecast period”

In terms of regions, the enterprise information archiving market is segmented into five major regional segments, namely North America, Asia-Pacific (APAC), Europe, Latin America, and Middle East and Africa (MEA). Out of the five major regions, APAC is likely to lead the market in terms of market growth, followed by Latin America. North America is rapidly adopting enterprise information archiving solutions as there are substantial advancements in digital technologies in the region which is automating the introduction of new and stringent laws related to electronic data.
