Project Management for Pharma Professionals

Description: Drug and Device development is a complex process which needs effective project management. With ever increasing pressures to complete the development of drugs and medical devices as quickly as possible, the effective use of project management can provide essential tools and techniques to achieve this. Indeed effective project management can be a key factor to successful completion of bringing a drug or medical device to market.

This interactive course has been designed to provide you with a thorough understanding of project management skills, including both technical and interpersonal skills.

You will be provided with an integrated project tool kit which can easily be used with your existing or future projects. This tool kit has been used to significantly improve the success of Pharmaceutical projects in many bio/pharmaceutical organisations. The course will show you how to use these project management skills to gain the most benefit from them in your projects.
