What is a Serious Adverse Events and how do I handle these?

Description:
Serious adverse events along with their cousins, serious adverse reactions, anticipated events, unanticipated events and unanticipated problems are often confused and misunderstood.

This webinar on serious adverse events, will show you why it is important to know when and what needs to be submitted, reviewed, and approved by an Institutional Review Board (IRB) and what can be handled by the investigator as non-reporting of events that are considered reportable can lead to issues related to non-compliance.
