Description:

"Infection Surveillance Solutions Market, By Product [Software (On Premise, Web Based), Services (Training & Consulting, Implementation)], By End User (Hospitals, LTCs, Nursing Home, Skilled Nursing Facility, Assisted Living) - Global Forecast to 2021"

The global infection surveillance solutions market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 14.1% during the forecast period of 2016-2021 and is estimated at USD 508.8 million in 2021. The market is mainly driven by factors such as increasing incidence of healthcare-associated infections (HAIs), government policies for preventing HAIs, rising healthcare expenditure, and increasing number of surgeries. However, factors such as high cost of software, reluctance among medical professionals to adopt advanced healthcare tools, and dearth of skilled IT professionals in the healthcare industry are expected to restrain the growth of the infection surveillance solutions market to a certain extent.

In this report, the global infection surveillance solutions market is segmented by product, end user, and region.

On the basis of products, the market is classified into software and services. The software segment is further segmented into on-premise and web-based software. The services included in this report are subdivided into product support & maintenance, training & consulting, and implementation services. By end user, the infection surveillance solutions market is segmented into hospitals and long-term care facilities. Hospitals are further sub-divided on the basis of bed size into large, medium-sized, and small hospitals. Long-term care facilities included in this report are nursing homes, skilled nursing facilities, and assisted living facilities.

Geographically, North America accounted for the largest share of the global infection surveillance solutions market in 2015, followed by Europe, Asia-Pacific, and the RoW. Developed geographies like North America and Europe are likely to grow at a lower CAGR as compared to the Asia-Pacific market. The Asia-Pacific region is expected to record the highest market growth during the forecast period due to the rising incidences of HAIs, increased awareness and accessibility to advanced healthcare facilities, rising healthcare spending, and rapid improvements in the health insurance sector in this region.

In 2015, Becton, Dickinson and Company (U.S.), Premier Inc. (U.S.), Wolters Kluwer N.V. (Netherlands,), Baxter International Inc. (U.S.), and GOJO Industries, Inc. (U.S.) among others, were the leading players in the infection surveillance solutions market.
