Global Cash Logistics Market (By Segment, By Region): Trends, Opportunities and Forecasts (2016-2021)

Description:

The global market for cash logistics services has been influenced positively by the rising security concerns amongst banks and corporate houses which require secure movement and management services for cash. Growing ATM market has resulted in rise in demand for cash logistics services.

The Global Cash Logistics market has witnessed stable growth in the demand for the cash logistics as well as management services. While apprehension to use electronic payment systems and penetration of ATMs is conducive to the growth of the market, popularity of plastic money and mobile wallets is adversely affecting the market prospects.

In the forecast period, Asia pacific region is likely to provide maximum opportunity for players to bank upon as the market is expected to witness high growth rate in the period 2016-2021. The global market witnessed a CAGR of 8.30% during 2011-2015 which is likely to reduce in the forecast period.
