Web Content Management Market - Global Forecast to 2021

Description: Forecasts for the Web Content Management (WCM) market to grow from USD 3.89 billion in 2016 to USD 8.25 billion by 2021, at a CAGR of 16.2%. The WCM market is significantly growing due to the high adoption of cloud-based solutions by enterprises. Cloud-based WCM solutions allow users to work and implement WCM technology within their organization at low cost and without IT expansion.

The massive adoption of Personal Computers (PCs) and internet across organizations has upgraded the work patterns such as digital marketing. Web experience management includes intranet and extranet portals, comprising features such as multilingual and dashboard, which are used by organizations to provide better website experience to customers.

APAC is growing at the highest rate in comparison to other regions. The enterprises in the APAC countries are admitting the significance of WCM and are adopting WCM solutions to optimally utilize their web content for enhancing customer relations and loyalty.
