Meaningful Use Update: Stage 3 Is Here!

Description: Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) has issued the final rules for implementing Stage 3 "meaningful use" (MU) standards for the Electronic Health Record Incentive Program. This program adjusts payments to Medicare and Medicaid providers for implementing and "meaningfully using" (or not) interoperable electronic health records (EHR) systems. This means that doctors and hospitals will need to evaluate how to meet the tougher requirements but benefit from reduced requirements for certain standards.

Objectives of the Presentation
- Learn when does Stage 3 start
- Understand the changes and their impact
- Learn how to improve physician satisfaction and productivity
- Learn how to improve patient satisfaction
- Make good use of the CMS incentive program
- Learn which data-entry measures have been eliminated
- Learn the requirements for completing the 90-day reporting period for 2015

Why Should you Attend:

CMS is "statutorily required to require more stringent measures of meaningful use over time." Since 2009, requirements have gradually increased and required more advanced technology. Each progression is designed to move all providers in the same direction, create standards of practice and for capturing data, and allow for improved patient outcomes. The Stage 3 takes us to more efficient system of reporting.

Topic Background:

These standards are being implemented in three stages to gradually move providers toward the desired end point: to "provide efficiencies in administrative processes which support clinical effectiveness, leveraging automated patient safety checks, supporting clinical decision making, enabling wider access to health information for patients, and allowing for dynamic communication between providers.
