India Hair Care Market Analysis by Type (Conditioners, Shampoos, Colourants, Salon Hair Care and Styling Agents) Forecast and Opportunities, 2016-2021

Description:

Hair care market in India has been registering double digits growth in the past few years, and it is likely to see modest demand till 2021. At macro level India has been recording the highest GDP growth among major economies and it registered GDP growth rate of over 7% during 2015-16. And, consequently average Indians have witnessed a rise in their personal disposable incomes. Hair care market in India continues to see more changes as Indian consumers are showing high preference for premium hair care products. And, the market for these products is burgeoning in the country.

India is the world second largest country in terms of population and the consumer base is already high for these products. Besides, factors like urbanisation, growing literacy and rising internet penetration have changed the consumption pattern in the country which has been well supported by improvement in employment opportunities in cities and government's effort to boost rural income.

According to “India Hair Care Market Analysis By Type, Forecast and Opportunities, 2016-2021”, Hair care market has grown with an impressive CAGR of over 16% during 2011-15 and it is forecast to grow with a CAGR of over 10% during 2016-21. Increase in the personal disposable income, growing urbanisation and change in consumption pattern coupled with improved retail presence across the country, are few of the factors driving the hair care products' consumption in India.

In 2015, ‘conditioners’ category held the largest market share in the country's hair care market, and was followed by ‘shampoos’. The prospect for hair care products remains bright in India and it is forecast to touch USD 5 billion by 2021. As far as competitive landscape is concerned, India hair care market is a fragmented market with many players operating within different category. However, Hindustan Unilever is the market leader due to its wide product offering in every category and omni presence distribution strategy.
