The New Physician Quality Reporting: Positioning Your Practice for MACRA's Merit-Based Incentive Payment System

Description: A CMS proposed rule would combine several of its existing physician value-based reimbursement programs, including the meaningful use EHR Incentive Program, the Physician Quality Reporting System (PQRS) and the Value-Based Payment Modifier (VBM).

This proposal is part of the Medicare Access and CHIP Reauthorization Act of 2015 (MACRA), which replaced the Sustainable Growth Rate (SGR) formula for physician reimbursement. Under this current proposal, physicians will be reimbursed by Medicare under either the Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) or Alternative Payment Models (APMs) starting in January 2017.

As this reimbursement shift by CMS moves forward, physician practices are re-examining how they report on physician quality. Most practices will opt for the MIPS program based on their current risk-contracting strategies.

During The New Physician Quality Reporting: Positioning Your Practice for MACRA’s Merit-Based Incentive Payment System, a 45-minute webinar on July 14th, now available for replay, Eric Levin, director of strategic services, McKesson, provides a brief MACRA overview and outlines where practices need to focus for the remainder of 2016 to avoid reimbursement penalties in 2017 based on the proposed rule.

You will learn how to:
- Set your electronic medical records objectives to meet the requirements for the Advancing Clinical Information requirements, which compromises 50 percent of your MIPS score;
- Use the patient-centered medical home and the chronic care management program as a training program for MACRA and utilize these revenue streams to fund practice improvements needed for these value-based models;
- Structure practice work flows using common methodologies to prepare for the MIPS program; and
- Encourage patient accountability in your practice, a key component in any value-based reimbursement model.

You can attend this program right in your office and enjoy significant savings — no travel time or hassle; no hotel expenses. It's so convenient! Invite your staff members to gather around a conference table to listen to the conference.

WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM THIS CONFERENCE?

Presidents/CEOs, chief financial officers, chief operating officers, vice presidents, medical directors, physician practice leaders, strategic planning executives and reimbursement executives.
