Physiotherapy Services Market: By Type (Exercise, Manual Therapy, Specialized Treatments,), By Procedure (Hydrotherapy, Cryotherapy, CPM), By Application (Orthopaedic, Geriatric) & By Region-Forecast (2016-2021)

Description:
Physiotherapy is provided to the patients suffering from disabilities and impairments of mobility by physiotherapist. Physiotherapy also known as physical therapy, involves an interaction between patient and physiotherapist in order to access and diagnose the problem in the patient. Globally, expanding geriatric population across the world, higher prevalence and incidences of orthopaedic disorders, growing women's healthcare concern, and rise in the awareness among people regarding advantages of physiotherapy are the prime growth drivers of global physiotherapy services market. In addition, increase in adoption of physiotherapy services in emerging economies such as China, India and others, will create new opportunities for global physiotherapy services market. However, higher cost and maintenance of physiotherapy equipments, shortage of skilled physiotherapist, and increasing popularity of other services such as acupuncture are the key restraints for global physiotherapy services market.

Geographically North America dominated global physiotherapy services market, because of increasing number of patients suffering from osteoporosis, rising geriatric population, and higher rate of road and workplace accidents. Asia Pacific is projected to have fastest growth, owing to rapidly increasing aging population, rise in consumer awareness, favourable government policies, modernization of healthcare infrastructure, and growing medical tourism industry in developing nations such as China, and India in this region. Among all the applications, orthopaedic and geriatric physiotherapy services has the highest market share in global physiotherapy services market due to higher prevalence of geriatric population.
