
Description:
A cigarette lighter is as a flame producing device that is used to light cigarettes, cigars and pipes and is either disposable or can be refilled. It was in the early 1800s that German chemist Johann Wolfgang Dobereiner invented one of the first lighters, which was referred to as Dobereiner’s lamp. The early lighters were large and bulky, and produced a great deal of heat when in use. With advances in technology, cigarette lighters have evolved over the last two centuries and have witnessed large changes in their design, convenience, and prices. Today cigarette lighters represent a multi-billion dollar industry and are growing annually at 3-4%. Region-wise, Asia Pacific represents the world's biggest market for cigarette lighters followed by Eastern and Western Europe. In terms of competition, the market is an oligopoly with the top three players accounting for more than two thirds of the total market.

“Cigarette Lighter Market: Global Industry Trends, Share, Size, Growth, Opportunity and Forecast 2017-2022” provides a techno-commercial roadmap for setting up a cigarette lighter manufacturing plant. The study, which has been done by one of the world's leading research and advisory firms, covers all the requisite aspects of the cigarette lighter market. This ranges from macro overview of the market to micro details of the industry performance, processing and manufacturing requirements, project cost, project funding, project economics including expected returns on investment, profit margins, etc. This report is a must-read for entrepreneurs, investors, researchers, consultants, business strategists, and all those who have any kind of stake or are planning to foray into the cigarette lighter industry in any manner.
