Africa Tire Market Forecast & Opportunities, 2012-2022

Description: Tire market in Africa grew at a moderate pace over the past few years, owing to rising passenger car and commercial vehicles sales, coupled with expanding replacement tire market. Moreover, increasing purchasing power and GDP per capita across the major African economies were identified to be the other predominant factors boosting tire sales in the region during 2012-2016.

Africa tire market is majorly import driven, and consequently, expanding distributor and dealer network is emerging as a critical factor for boosting tire sales in a specific country. Furthermore, increasing tire radialization, growing demand for Chinese tires and proliferation of used car market are anticipated to drive demand for tires in Africa during 2012-2022.

According to the report, “Africa Tire Market Forecast & Opportunities, 2012-2022”, tire market in Africa is projected to surpass $ 8 billion by 2022. Replacement tires accounted for the majority share in Africa tire market over the past few years, and the same trend is anticipated to continue in the coming years as well. During 2012-2016, Africa tire market was dominated by passenger car tire segment, which accounted for a market share of over 50% in 2016.

LCV segment has emerged as the second largest tire segment over the last five years, followed by M&HCV, two wheelers and OTR tire segments. and the segment is projected to continue dominating the market through 2022. South Africa, Algeria, Egypt, Nigeria and Libya are the top 5 tire markets in Africa, and these 5 countries grabbed a cumulative market share of over 70% in Africa tire market in 2016.
