Stock Dashboard

Description: Over 45,000 stocks make up the global equity market today. That means there are investment opportunities far beyond the top hundred stocks that are regularly covered by analysts and the media, in their markets. How do you spot the most promising stocks of the day - as well as the investments under threat - without wasting hours researching?

More than just a string of stock market quotes, StockDashboard pre-packaged ready-to-integrate service constitutes a major advance for the investment community, an authoritative and reliable flow of share-related data, along with the price and volume changes and trading dynamics critical to investment decisions. The unbiased and independent equities data we provide is unique to the retail market. Our mission is to democratis the stock market.

When you purchase a monthly subscription, you will receive a user name and password to access our global website. With that code you can choose up to twenty stocks a month (from any one of 90 covered markets) for the next month and access data including company’s activity, board, profile, financial data, price volume dynamics, short selling, bullish and bearish headlines, peer group analysis, etc. This data can also be easily downloaded into excel for your own further analysis.

90+ countries including most in North America, Europe, Asia, Australia, Middle East and South America as well as many in Africa.

More than 98% of all publicly-listed companies in the world
