Global Air Filter Cartridges Market 2014-2018

Description:

About Air Filter Cartridges

Air filter cartridges are equipment used for filtering unwanted particles from the air. They are classified into blended cellulose, melt-blown media, nanofiber media, and others. The main application of an air filter cartridge is to filter and collect dust. Air filter cartridges are used across Industrial, Residential, and Commercial sectors. The need to create a healthy working environment across production facilities has led to the wide adoption of air filter cartridges.

The analysts forecast the Global Air Filter Cartridges market to grow at a CAGR of 5.73 percent over the period 2013-2018.
